

Proximity Graduate Lawyer Program

Proximity is a multi-disciplinary team of professionals. Our advisors largely work on site and work as an integrated part of the client team, develop close working relationships and influence the strategic direction of each matter.

About

Our Graduate Lawyer Program is a 12 month program designed to give selected law graduates the opportunity to apply their studies in practice. Our law graduates:

- > gain skills and experience across a broad range of government legal practice areas:
  - Public Law and General Advice
  - Commercial Law
  - Litigation and Dispute Resolution
  - Employment and Industrial relations
  - Regulatory and Enforcement
- > provide services to Proximity's clients using all three of Proximity's service delivery modes:
  - secondments
  - projects
  - advisory and consultancy.
- > gain experience in:
  - non-legal service areas, including commercial advisory services
  - legal business management, including marketing and business administration
- > have the opportunity to work on pro-bono matters and contribute to our corporate social responsibility program
- > complete their Legal Practice Certificate while working in a high performance, innovative and supportive law firm environment.

At Proximity I've been challenged and given the opportunity to work on a variety of exciting projects for the Commonwealth's largest agencies.

Bilal Hussain, Proximity Graduate 2017

Location

Proximity Graduates will be based in Proximity's head office in Barton, Canberra but during the program will also work on our clients' sites to deliver services or on secondment.

Graduate Testimonial

There's been a real focus on my learning and development. The people here are always genuinely keen to explain things to me in detail, and to support me through new work.
